

UNCOMMON MOTOR ROW THREESOME

Trio of condos share building and triplex layout but little else

Kourkouvis. In fact, each of the two-bedroom units is very different. One condo, priced at $549,000, has a lofted sitting room tucked above the kitchen. Another condo has a second-level master suite that overlooks the living room through wide clerestory windows, and the third has a pair of second-level bedrooms beneath a third-level family room (each of these units is priced at $569,000; parking spaces cost an additional $30,000). Each of the three condos—the last unsold units in a 22-unit building—is available for immediate occupancy.
